

TU Berlin – Institute for Architecture (IfA) Application Information, Winter Semester 2022/23

MASTER URBAN DESIGN & URBAN DESIGN DUAL DEGREE

Selection process – What does that mean?

As a Master's program with a limited number of students, applicants are chosen through a selection process. The selection is based on the overall grade obtained in previous studies and on the results of a personal interview in connection with additional specific professional competencies acquired outside of an academic institution.

The number of participants invited to interviews is limited, which means that you might not get an invitation even though all other admission requirements are sufficient. The overall grade is the first criteria at which applicants get ranked first. Considering the ranking of all applicant's grades, the selection committee decides which one will be the mark that limits the number of applicants getting invited to an interview.

The personal interviews will be conducted via video conference. The date of the interviews will be announced at the beginning of the application period.

Who can apply?

Condition for admission to Urban Design is a bachelor's degree or equivalent diploma in architecture, urban and regional planning, landscape architecture or a closely related field of study. A program is closely related if at least 30 credits have been done in reference to the above mentioned fields. Of these 30 credits, 12 credits can be replaced with work experience in the mentioned fields. Upon receipt of the application, the examination board shall decide over the professional suitability of the candidates.

How can you apply?

If you acquired your first university degree (for example a bachelor's) from our university or another German university or will graduate from there shortly, you can apply directly to TU Berlin.

If you have studied at a foreign university, please apply via uni-assist.

Please inform yourself about these two ways to apply here.

If you already are or were enrolled for an Architecture Master Degree program in an institution for higher education, and are applying for a higher semester, please inform yourself at the Student Services Master in the section Application for a Higher Semester.

When can you apply?

The application period starts April 2, 2022, and all applications are to be submitted by May 15, 2021. Information about the application period as well as the lecture period can be found here.

What are the semester fees?

The fees are regulated by the central administration of the TU Berlin. Information about the exact amount of the semester fees can be found only after registration to the program. However, it is around 307€ including public transportation ticket for the city area of Berlin. The information about semester fees can be found here.
